1st Circular Announcement

In the context of the European funded Project entitled HIPON – “E-modules on HistoPathology: a valuable online tool for students, researchers and professionals” (www.hiponproject.eu), I would like to invite you to participate in the project’s International Conference & ICT Workshop: “Improving Pathology Teaching”, which will be organized on October 22nd – 23rd, 2015, in Athens.

HIPON’s e-learning platform offers a valuable teaching instrument to acquire professional experience in pathology, through the use of guided learning courses, microscope high quality image collections, educational videos and relevant virtual slides on basic and systemic pathology.

General Information

The Conference will be hosted by the 1st Department of Pathology, Medical School, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, which is the coordinator of HIPON. The International Conference will be held on October 22nd, at 'Kostis Palamas' Building, National & Kapodistrian University of Athens. Distinguished Professors and doctors of pathology from abroad and Greece will actively participate in the event, delivering lectures
